Plenary session: «Investment View on Almaty:
New Opportunities for Cooperation»

Today the city accounts for one fifth of the country's GDP and taxes. International companies are actively investing in Almaty. Over the past 10 years, total investments amounting to $ 22.2 billion, including foreign investments of $ 3.5 billion, have been attracted into the city. Trade and services account for 88% of the city's economy. Small and medium enterprises contribute over 40%. What can become a new growth driver for one of the country's major cities? How to enhance the city's investment attractiveness and ensure that the investment climate continues to comply to high standards?

What sectors are attractive for investment in the light of new government programmes and initiatives in the city?

12:30 - 13:00

Commercial agreement signing ceremony

13:00 - 14:30

Business lunch

14:30 - 16:00

PANEL SESSION «SMART CITY: PEOPLE, CITIES
AND NEW TECHNOLOGIES»

Some cities in Kazakhstan are introducing the Smart City programme aimed at making lives of inhabitants as convenient and safe as possible. International researchers have high hopes for the Smart City concept, as "pumped" megacities will become more economical. Thus, according to analysts, "smart cities" will enable saving up to $ 5 trillion, mainly on street lighting, "smart" buildings, utilities by 2022. How to create an ecosystem for development of technology and innovation in the new environment? How to develop sustainably and facilitate green investments? How to attract a innovative class able to create technologies and processes? New tools undertaken by city administrations for promotion of technologies for sustainable development.
